Sub: Some words of Praise

Sir,

I am an important part of Punjab State Leadership of Communist Party of India (CPI).

I, since my youth days, have been writing and agitating against excesses and high handedness of Police. But now something pleasant happened for which I want to say some words of praise.

I (along with my wife) went to Police Station/ Post Sector 56 on 5th March Sunday to report the loss of my Driving License.

I did not introduce myself, said nothing about my profile, nor I used my Pad to write the application. We simply went as ordinary (of course Senior, that was obvious) Citizens.

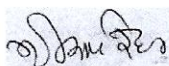

As soon as we entered the room of Munshi, the official before allowing us to utter any word asked us to be seated. Then he left the work, he was doing and asked our problem. I told about the loss of DL and gave him the application. He suggested some necessary changes which I did. I asked when to come for necessary copy so as to initiate the process for new/duplicate DL. Very politely, he told me to wait for some minutes. He finished the work he was doing and went outside and sent the concerned official (Mrs. Jaswinder Kaur). She outright took our application, made necessary entries in register, prepared the necessary copy, made entry in dispatch register, marked the dispatch number, stamped the paper and handed over to me.

They (by that time the other official had also returned) thanked us, before we could thank them profusely.

While I appreciate the pleasant behavior we received (unexpectedly) from police, I also hope that your department should continue to be public friendly (at least in office dealings). (Of course I reserve my right to protest and agitate whenever there is any excess by Police or such call is given by my party.)

With thanks,

Yours Truly,
